_____ A team notices when its leader is constantly frantic, exhausted, or frustrated.

_____ Healthy leadership includes both hard work and appropriate rest.

Reflect on Your Leadership Health

Use honest, specific examples. Prepare to participate in the team devotional conversation.

1. When leadership pressure increases, what usually gets neglected first in your life?

2. What signs tell you that your soul is becoming drained rather than refreshed?

3. Are prayer and Bible study currently a lifeline for you or mostly a routine? Explain.

4. What is your team learning from the way you work, rest, and handle pressure?

5. Is there something you may need to say no to so you can say yes to greater health?

Put It into Practice

Choose one primary growth step for the next two weeks. You may also select supporting actions.

- _____ Daily time with God: Set aside intentional time for prayer and Scripture as a lifeline, not just a routine.
- _____ Take a true Sabbath: Protect meaningful time to stop, worship, rest, and be renewed.
- _____ Guard family time: Protect time with the people God has entrusted to you.
- _____ Protect your sleep: Make healthy rest a leadership priority instead of continually sacrificing it.

_____ Say no to something: Remove an unnecessary commitment so you can say yes to rest and health.

_____ Model balance: Work hard, rest well, and keep your priorities straight so your team sees a healthy example.

Which growth step will you focus on, and why?
